Skeptic Turned Believer

By Taurus4554 on June 17, 2011

I was diagnosed with "hammer toes" about a year ago. Walking has been miserable, because they put pressure on a different part of the foot, especially the plantar region, causing even more pain with each step. No cure for them, but there is treatment such as stretching the toes &/or wearing sandals as much as possible.

Two and a half weeks ago, I did some research to see if I could find ANYTHING to help me. I stumbled across "Smart Toes" by accident, then came to Amazon to find them.

When I first started them, it hurt. I will NOT lie on this point. It has been so long since I felt the freedom of my toes being normal, it hurt. But, I kept using them on a daily basis, wearing them

I like them.

My feet were starting to get bunions from tight fitting shoes and used to ache at night after I got home.

They would probably work if I took the time to use then properly longer each time. I haven't been able to to the walking with them yet, but I can tell you, right now, the pain in my foot is still there, but A WHOLE LOT LESS! In fact, I cannot believe the difference in just the last 2 weeks! I have them on as I type this so I can give you a glimpse of the feeling. They are gel, first. Soft, pliable, yet still strong enough. Because my feet are bad, I have to actually position 2 toes on both feet by hand between the separators. The instructions say that you will hurt, because you are using new muscles most of us never use at all!

I highly recommend these for anyone who has hammer toes, like me, or other specific foot problems, or even if your feet are just "tired" all the time. Great product!

superb relief for tailor's bunion

By Bibhu P. Mohanty on December 7, 2010

I tried a number of products for tailor's bunion relief, and this one is by far the most effective. I try to wear it for at least 30 minutes every day. I experimented with not wearing it for a day and felt much worse. It seems to work by stretching the muscles and ligaments that are too tight and realigning the joints so that the foot functions properly.

Give them time

By doredeb on March 18, 2012

Was going to return these after only a few days...but I'm glad I "broke them in." These were not just uncomfortable at first, they HURT. It's really hard to believe that the same product is suitable for someone with a size 5 foot and someone with a 12. I have very small feet, and even though the stretchers are made of gel, they were still hard to put on my feet (let alone keep them on for any length of time). I was counting the seconds the first day just to keep them on the recommended 5 minutes. I'm not sure people with larger feet would have the same issue. Having said this...after a couple of weeks of dedication - and increasingly longer wear times - I believe these have helped a lot. I put them on at night for about 30 minutes, and they really help to relax and stretch my toes and feet. It took a while - but I'm very happy with this purchase and would recommend them to others.

These are very good yoga toes or toe stretchers. I was having problems holding yoga poses due to my feet and toes hurting. Toe stretching works very well for balance and to make your feet stonger.

I ordered these because I think I'm developing a hammer toe and the pain is getting worse and worse. Wearing these is so unbelievably relaxing, I can't even begin to describe it! It feels like a full body massage, I'm not kidding. From just 5 minutes of wearing them I feel ridiculously relaxed for another hour or so afterwards. I can only imagine what it'll be like when I can wear them longer! It's only been a couple of days so I can't tell how much they're helping the hammer toe, but based on the feeling of relaxation alone I want to buy these for everyone I know. I don't think I've ever reviewed anything before, but these are worth talking about!! BUY THEM even if you don't have any specific foot or toe problems!

Aaaahhhh Where have these been all my life?!

By ComicGurlGeek on March 29, 2012

Amazon Verified Purchase

I was born with what can only be described as freakishly long toes, with the second toe bigger than the first, and the third toe almost as long as the first! Shoes never really fit me right, as the rest of my feet crowd my toes and make them curl under when I walk. I've broken every single one of my poor, mistreated toes at least once by essentially tripping over them.

Also, I've always noticed that I have massive calf muscles that are always tight and knotted. Not sure if it's related to the odd way I walk, but it definitely is a pain.

The Smart Toes stretchers are great for both problems: my toes, feet, and calves feel unbelievably soothed while I wear them, like a great stretch after sitting still for hours. Other reviewers mentioned that they could not wear the Smart Toes for more than a few minutes at a time at first; myself, the only reason I take them off when I'm at home is because I don't want to walk around in them and get them dirty. I really wish I'd found these years ago!
